the community or those interested in this absorbing subject of the coundness of my decision, I shall briefly state the reasons which head me to this result.

In the first place, the penalty given by the act of 1827 cannot be regarded as repealed by the 24th section of the act under consideration, providing that all acts and parts of acts, and all charters inconsistent with it are repealed, as this where of the commonitors of any obscineral in this absorbing with the first piace, the penalty given by the set of the common of enacted the former penalties they might still be recoverable.

These views seem to me to dispose entirely of the objection that the penalty of $25 given by the set of 1827, has been repealed by the 24th section of the act of April 9, 1855. It is not to be believed that the Legislature designed to relax the excise haves one to allow such unrestricted and unregulated traffic, and that too when they expressly declare by section 25 that such traffic is a public musance, and had the language of the law been susceptible by plain interpretation of such a construction, it would still be the duty of Courts to enforce what appears to be the intention of the Legislature. More unavoidable is that duty in the present case when no other result, as it seems to me, can be reached even by any, however strained and unnatural a reading. Although, as a general rule, penal stautes are to be construed sirrilly, yet it is equally well settled that they are not to be construed so strictly as to defect the obvious muon of the Legislature. Smith's Com, § 749. Ch. J. Marshall, 5 Wheat, 76.

Wheat. 76.

A suggestion has been thrown out that the chartered rights and franchises of this City had been interfered with in an unconstitutional manner by the act of 1855, in depriving the corporate officers of the power to issue licenses and of the revenues derived from granting

It appears however to be clearly settled that this power is of a political nature and within the control of the Legislature. (The People agt. Morris, 13 Wend., 325; The Mayor agt. Nichols, 4 Hill, 20).

Without attempting to follow the counsel in this case through their elaborate arguments or seeking to discuss many of the topics which have been introduced. I have confined myself to such matters as seemed to me to have a most important bearing upon the decision of this case, and which have brought me to the conclusion that the plannills are emitted to a to the conclusion that the plaintiffs are entitled to a udement.

Mr. J. B. Haskins desires us to state that on opening his argument on the Liquer Law before Justice Merch he did not state that he differed from the Corporation Counsel, but from the Recorder in rega-that law. Mr. Haskins also did not state that all the oration Counsel, but from the Recorder in regard to legal opinions given on the law had been given from the political bias of their authors, but that many of them had been so given.

The set itself conclusively shows by expressly applying the former penalties that there is no inconsistency or absurdity in probabiling the increase and still presenting for the sale without it, and that the two cactinents may stand. And it was conceded in the present case that had the act of 1855 expressly recent class that had the act of 1855 expressly recent that had the act of 1855 expressly recent that had the act of 1855 expressly recent that had the act of 1855 expressly rec The Afrest was full for Australia, taking about 600 turn of Barley, and the Boston Light would probably la' c as much more. About 100 time Oats had also been shipped to Australia; the Comet had cleared for New York with Hides, Horns, Rags, Wool, Hardware, Quicksilver, &c.; the Morning Light, a very duced to $1,122,001. Paid from Assay Office, $433; large clipper, would be put on the berth immediately; paid on disbursing checks, $39,064. We do not relarge clipper, would be put on the berth immediately; silver; the Torando for Acapulco with Coal, and the back Cyane would leave in a few days for the Russian American Possessions with a full cargo of Wheat, Candai Meal, Dry Goods, Furniture, &c. All this shows that California is about to become an exporting State for other products than gold. The San Francisco for other products than gold. The San Francisco Herald says:

"The demand for money to-day is not so great as it was supposed it would have been, considering the character of the trade done during the past week—a sure indication that the country is paying up preity well. In fact, the interior merchants should be able to finfill their emagements at present without difficulty, considering the fact that a larger smount of dust resis in the hands of the miners at present than at any time during the past two or three years.

"The Mint, it is stated, will resume operations tomoriow. Should such prove to be the case, it will of course prove a subject of sincere congratulation among all business parties; but at the same time we cannot conceal our disgust at the whole course of the Government regarding the coinage of gold in California. It is not generally known, but is nevertheless the fact, that the principal private assay office in the country effects over fifty per cent more toward the supply of coin to the country than the United States Mint does. The highest point reached by the Mint has be en about $1.000 cone? month in coin.

"The assay office has for weeks at a time manufactured from $0.000 to $80.000 per diem. Every banker in the State will acknowledge that but for the assay office the finerical crisis in this State would have been prolonged for weeks and weeks. To it the holders of bellion had to look for coin, and but for it San Francheco might at this mement have been bankrupt. The Mint here should be of a capacity to coin $5.000,000 per month. The Philadelphia establishment should be broken up; the New-York Assay Office should be changed into a Branch Mint, but the great Government manufactory should be located in San Francisco.

"The shipment to-morrow will not probably fall

circo.

"The shipment to-morrow will not probably fall short of $1,22.0,000 in bullion. The manifested treasure, it should be borne in mind, by no means represents the amount of exchange drawn on the East, or the money remitted. The bankers always prefer remitting paper as long as they are assured of its value, insamuch as by so doing they save both freight and insurance.

The amount of gold shipped from San Francisco in April was $3,056,634, to which the steamer of the 1st

May added $1,500,000.

The advices by the George Law in regard to the Panama Railroad are very encouraging, "The train for the Law brought over 935 passengers, which at $25 each makes a large way bill, without considering the freight or the treasure, &c. The road was being operated very satisfactorily to the Superindent. The heavy rains had done no damage to the track, cuts, or embankments. The track on pier at Panama would probably be laid down 350 feet by the 1st of June, and would very much facilitate landing and shipping passengers and baggage, &c. The English treasure from South America was now being transported on the railroad, and various articles of freight were offering at the Panama end, showing that the freight business will eventually be large. There were at Panaus 350 begs Peruvian bark and some 300 tuns dyewoods ready to pass over the road, and the traffic in dye-woods could be largely increased.

It seems that the longed drafts on New-Bedford and elsewhere, several of which have appeared here, drawn at Honolulu, amount to $44,000.

The State authorities have advertised for proposals for a loan of $1,500,000 for the purpose of paying of that amount of Canal Revenue Certificates due 1st July next, and another loan of $1,250,000, $750,000 of which is for expenditures on the Canals, and $500,000 for the redemption of that amount of State 5 V cents due 1st July next. These loans bear interest at the une 1st July next. These loans bear interest at the rate of 6 P cent. The money will be required—5 P cent on the acceptance of the proposals, and the remainder on the 29th June if paid in New York, or 30th if paid in Albany. Proposals for the loan of $1,500,000 until June 20, and for $1,230,000 until June 21.
